Holistic Pet Care DVD

The information contained in this DVD can possibly save lives. This video will get people thinking twice about the state of our pets' health. At the very least, we will be able to teach people what not to feed, what to feed and how to do it. Contained in the DVD is also valuable information that consumers can view on their computers—food rankings, recommended websites, recipes and more. This DVD is the first in a series of upcoming Holistic Pet Care DVDs. To order, visit our website.
